

Animal Classification

By Isabella Campis

Table of Contents

Reptiles 1

Amphibia
ns 2

Birds 3

Fish 4

Mammals 5

Reptiles

Reptiles are vertebrates. They are cold-blooded. They breathe with lungs. They have scales. They lay eggs. An animal that fits this classification is a snake.

Amphibians

Amphibians are vertebrates. They are cold-blooded. They breathe with gills when babies and lungs when adults. They have bumpy skin. They lay eggs. An animal that fits this classification is a frog.

Birds

Birds are vertebrates. They are warm-blooded. They breathe with lungs. They are covered in feathers. They lay eggs. An animal that fits this classification is a robin.

Fish

Fish are vertebrates. They are cold-blooded. They breathe with gills. They are covered in scales. They lay eggs. An animal that fits this classification is an eel.

Mammals

Mammals are vertebrates. They are warm-blooded. They breathe with lungs. They are covered in hair or fur. They give live birth. An animal that fits this classification is a dog.

Resources used:

Iconn.org

Squire, Ann, Birds, (2014).

Squire, Ann, Mammals, (2014).

Squire, Ann, Reptiles, (2014).

Steward, Melissa, Fishes, (2001).

Taylor-Butler, Christine, Amphibians, (2014).

About the author

My name is Isabella. I am in third grade. I go to Salem School. I like swimming and horseback riding. This is my first book.

Glossary

vertebrate: an animal that has a spine

Classification: organized groups

The End